A new program designed to help build Dayton's next generation of leaders is seeking young people for participation.

Your City, My City: Teen Leaders in Action is a five-week, results-oriented program focused on wellness, civic awareness and community action. It is presented by the Department of Recreation and Youth Services.

The program's purpose is to develop community leaders of tomorrow by introducing teens to community service, civic engagement, volunteerism, social justice, service learning, public administration and giving back to the community through actions.

Twenty youths age 13 to 17 will be admitted. Participants must be city of Dayton residents and must be available throughout the schedule of activities (Tuesday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m., from June 14 to July 15).

Applications will be accepted April 4 through April 30. Selected candidates will be interviewed for potential admission.

Applications are available at three Dayton recreation centers: Greater Dayton (2021 W. Third St.); Lohrey (2366 Glenarm Ave.); and Northwest (1600 Princeton Dr.). during regular business hours.

For more information, call 937-333-8400.
