

Dayton water boil advisory canceled

- City system contaminant tests results are negative -
- County advisory stands until further notice -

Release Date: Friday, Feb. 15, 2019

The water boil advisory for City of Dayton water customers is canceled. City of Dayton water customers do not need to boil water prior to consumption.

Montgomery County customers however remain under a boil advisory.

An updated map showing areas that are clear or remaining under an advisory is available at www.daytonohio.gov/waterupdate. City water customers may call 333-4905 to confirm their status if needed; County customers may call 781-2688.

As of 6:30 a.m. today, all water samples collected by the City of Dayton were absent of bacteria.

City customers are advised of the following before using tap water:

- * If water has not been used for several hours, run the tap until there is a noticeable temperature drop.
- * Then, run water for 30 seconds to 3 minutes before using it for drinking and cooking. This helps flush water that may have contained lead that may have leached from plumbing.
- * Clean your faucet aerator. Flushing water lines includes interior and exterior faucets, showers, water and ice dispensers.
