Your neighborhood officer may look a little different over the next couple of months!

The Dayton Police Department is once again on-board with the Dayton Fraternal Order of Police as they raise money for two cancer foundations during ‘no-shave’ October and November. This year female officers can also participate by wearing either pink fingernail polish or a pink colored stripe in their hair, both of which would normally be outside of the uniform policy. Male officers will be permitted to not shave their facial hair and sport either a well-kept goatee or beard.

Participation in the No Shave/Pink months come with a $50 donation to the F.O.P. Foundation and at the end of the two months, that money will be given to the Miami Valley Cancer Foundation and the Children’s Cancer Foundation.
