The Dayton Police Department will welcome 10 new police officers when members of the 105th police recruit class are sworn-in. One Dayton firefighter also completed the Police Academy in order to become an arson investigator.

The new officers will be formally sworn-in by City Manager Shelley Dickstein at a City Hall ceremony on Friday, August 5, at 9 a.m. (City Commission Chambers, 101 W. Third St., second floor).

Later in the day there will be a ceremonial graduation at Stivers High School's Eichelberger Hall (1313 E. Fifth St.) beginning at 6 p.m. The keynote speaker will be former Dayton City Manager Tim Riordan.

Family, friends, the community and the media are welcome to attend both events.

Members of the 105th police recruit class began their training at the Dayton Police Academy in February 2016 and completed a challenging six-month curriculum.

After graduation, each new officer will spend 16 weeks with a training officer before beginning solo patrol.
